Student Profile:

We live in a world with all too many stressors. The path of higher education is inevitable to be laced with stress in the wake of grades and tests, but there are areas in which stress should be reduced. The cost of my college education is high and is only rising. Without the TEACH grant, I would not be in the position where I am today—being able to afford my semester bills. If it were not for the TEACH grant, I would not have the means to afford to step onto the path of the profession that calls to me. There are countless other students in my same situation. We do not deserve to have our peace of mind upheaved. We do not deserve to live in fear of continuing our education at a price at which we cannot pay. My future students do not deserve to be met with a lack of teachers who simply could not afford to obtain their degree. The TEACH grant must be protected to protect not only my ability to an affordable education, but for those who also want to embark on the most fulfilling career out there.
